Governance

The organization of ERMA consists of 3 bodies: Certification Board, Advisory Board, and Executive Board. This board structure is developed to ensure the effectiveness and the independence of ERMA as a certification body.

Certification Board

ERMA Certification Board is a body appointed by the Chairman, that acts as an independent standards-setting agency within ERMA. The Certification Board's objective is to develop and determine globally-accepted competency standards to be used as ERMA's global standards. It also has the responsibility to grant or deny certification applications for three levels of ERMA certifications.

Advisory Board

ERMA Advisory Board, consisted of leaders and experts in risk management from around the world. Their experience and insight guide ERMA in specific issues associated with different areas of risk management. The formation of the Advisory Board is aimed to help ERMA in keeping itself abreast of risk management development and practices from all over the world. By tapping the knowledge and expertise of distinguished panel members consisted of thought leaders and leading practitioners, with different backgrounds from all parts of the world, ERMA will have a very strong and comprehensive global perspective on the various aspect of Risk Management.

Executive Board

ERMA Executive Board is the management arm of ERMA. The Executive Board designs and executes ERMA programs in every country of operations. It consists of ERMA key partners from each region, and coordinated through ERMA Global, ensuring that ERMA remains responsive to the evolving needs of risk professionals at both the global and regional scope.

Partnership

To strengthen our worldwide presence, ERMA has appointed Partners from many parts of the worlds. These partners are either local individuals or institutions with significant experience and track records in Enterprise Risk Management that acts as ERMA's official representative in a specific region or country.

Partners ensure that ERMA's members who are interested in ERM certifications and/or courses realize the full potential benefit offered by ERMA, which goes beyond than just a certification or a course.

Partners act as a consultant that will help members choose the most appropriate ERM courses and/or ERM certification, and also providing assistance throughout the administrative and assessment process.
